Art Unit: 1743

1. Claims 1-13, 21-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 9, "the heads of the pipettor" and "the multiple head pipettor" lack antecedence and the claims are therefore unclear as to what structure or function is intended.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 1743

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 1, 6-8, 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by O'Connell et al.

O'Connell teaches a reservoir with side walls several times higher than the grooves formed in the bottom Figure 6. The edges are pointed as shown in figure 4. The edges and bottoms of the recesses are round (circular) as shown in Figure 8. With respect to claim 21, the angled wall leading to the bottle mouth or the surface 62 constitutes a baffle.

7. Claims 2-4, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over O'Connell as applied to claim 1 above.

8. O'Connell fails to teach the number of recesses or pipetting.

9. It would have been obvious to provide any suitable number of recesses in accordance with the size of the grooves taught to cover area of the bottom of the vessel based on the cell attachment area and/or volume of culture required. That is, the size of the bottom of the vessel, and therefore the number of grooves, is a result dependent variable, and it would have been obvious to vary the size and number of grooves in order to alter the resulting cell culture quantity. With respect to claim 14, O'Connell teaches inserting pipettes in the embodiment of Figure 1 (col. 3, line 12), and it would have been obvious to pipette in and out of the vessel of Figure 6 in order to supply and remove reagents as was known in the art.

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8, 21 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

11. Claims 9-13, 22 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

12. Claim 5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Note that claim 5 must be rewritten so as not to be redundant with claim 9.

13. Claim 14 would be allowable if rewritten to include the limitations of claim 9.

14. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to teach or suggest the structure of claim. Note that to the extent the Tomtec reference is legible, including the annotation showing the dimple, the dimple has vertical side walls for at least a portion of the side wall and therefore does not angle outwardly between the bottom and edge as claimed. Note also that support for the amendment to the specification and claim 14 is found on page 4, lines 5-15.

With respect to claims 5 and 9, the embodiment of Figure 10 of O'Connell is seen as having recess with two substantially triangular sections at the end of each groove, but the length of each groove makes the long side walls substantially rectangular or trapezoidal rather than substantially triangular as claimed with respect to four walls of each recess.

15. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
